General Announcements

Return to Services

Headquarters made the announcement that certain congregations may begin meeting in person May 30, depending on local regulations. East Texas will begin meeting that day, following the Texas governor’s guidelines in place at that time. Ruston, however, will not yet meet due to the higher numbers of COVID-19 cases in Louisiana and therefore a slower pace in reopening various aspects of the economy as well as in-person meetings.

East Texas will meet on May 30. If you do not feel comfortable meeting in person yet (the current guidelines encourage those in the “at-risk” category to strongly consider not yet meeting), you can still connect to services via webcast or phone hookup as usual. There will be a Google form emailed out early that week asking you to fill in whether you plan to attend so we can better plan our seating arrangements and ushering responsibilities to stay within the state guidelines for church services. Please be sure to watch for an email that week with the link and respond ASAP so the ushers can get an idea of how best to seat everyone with the proper spacing.

The guidelines say that all employees and volunteers are to wash or sanitize their hands upon entering the building and attendees are encouraged to do so as well. The ushers met this week to plan how best to seat everyone and will be directing you to either the front door or the one on the side of the Auditorium to enter the building. We will also offer everyone a squirt of hand sanitizer made from natural products.

To maintain proper social distancing most fellowshipping will need to be with those seated near you—or you can visit out in the open areas outside the building.

Holy Day Offerings

Please either mail or submit your holy day offerings online by following the same instructions used for the Unleavened Bread holy days. If you have a question, please let Mr. Treybig know.

Pentecost

There will be one service on Pentecost, May 31. It will be a webcast from headquarters at 12 noon.

Camp Applications

As announced, the June preteen summer camps have been cancelled. The other summer camps are still scheduled.

Remember we are starting a new system this year. You will start at the same place you’ve always gone—the COGWA Portal—but be sure to read the instructions in the blue box over the list of household members once you click to apply. One additional tip we’ve found is to NOT allow your browser to “auto-fill” any fields. When it does, it often changes the applicant name!

If you submit an application and then need to change something, simply email the appropriate camp director and he will make the changes for you in Salesforce. (The applications are not stored in the Portal now.) We appreciate your patience in working with this new system. If you have any trouble or questions, you can contact us at registration@cogwa.org, and we’ll be happy to assist you, or you can contact the camp director.
